Premeno[®] duo - Composition

Sodium hyaluronate, lactic acid, sodium lactate. Other ingredients: Fats, cetareth, beeswax, sorbitan monstearate, macrogols.

Common Vaginal Disturbances General Information

The moisture content, elasticity and acidity level of the vaginal walls are very finely regulated.

In certain situations, such as during or after the menopause, after childbirth, while breast feeding, when taking hormone preparations, during stress, or after cancer treatment (chemotherapy) this regulation process can be disturbed.

As a result, vaginal tissues may become dry, and lactic acid secretion reduced.

Common vaginal symptoms Include:

itching, burning, burning during sexual intercourse and a tendency to inflammation. Intercourse, or other mechanical stimuli, can cause abrasive injuries to the epithelium. Decrease in lactic acid production can increase the chance of developing a vaginal infection, and thus vaginal inflammation (vaginitis) and a discharge with a distinct odour.

Premeno[®] duo - what is it for?

- Treatment of vaginal dryness, caused by e. g. the menopause, stress, breast feeding or antihormonal chemotherapy, with or without local hormone therapy.
- Supports healing processes in vaginal epithelium.
- improves the body's natural defence with vaginal infections.
- Can be used in conjunction with antibiotic treatments.
- Can be used directly after anti-fungal treatment.
- In most cases can be used in combination with hormone replacement therapy (HRT). Consult your GP first.

Premeno[®] duo - how does it work?

Premeno[®] Duo helps to address current symptoms and assist in preventing development of certain conditions via its two active ingredients:

Sodium Hyaluronate:

a molecule responsible for the moisture and elasticity of the skin and mucous membranes. It also plays a vital part to support the healing process.

Lack of oestrogen causes levels of hyaluronic acid in the vaginal lining to fall, which reduces moisture, elasticity and the stability of the tissue.

Lactic acid/sodium lactate combination:

restores vaginal-pH to the natural level of 3.8 to 4.2 and thus decreases the risk of infection.

Numerous factors, including lack of oestrogen or bleeding can have a negative effect on the natural production of lactic acid in the vagina. This can cause an overgrowth of bacteria and fungi.
